LETTER FROM MS. SHULTS

ACE Prep Families,

Is it just me or did third quarter fly by? Despite illness and quarantines, cold temps and long streaks of indoor recess, we have made it to the final nine weeks of school – eek! Huge Prep Prop to you all for ENDURANCE and RESPONSIBILITY! We appreciate your ongoing dedication to your scholar's education and your support in upholding our COVID safety protocols to get us this far.

Once fourth quarter hits, there is a natural tendency to count down the final days. And while there are plenty of achievements to celebrate, we still have goals to set, assessments to crush, and targets to hit. In other words, the work is not done. For teachers, the sense of urgency ramps up this time of year. We maximize every minute, which means your scholars' attendance is more important than ever. We would love to see everyone commit to perfect attendance for the remainder of the year (on the days you're feeling well). Help us end strong!

Wishing everyone a safe and healthy spring!

Ms. Shults, Founder & Head of School

Our 2nd and 3rd grade scholars really enjoyed their reward at the first ever ACE Prep Nail Salon!

As Purdue prepares to graduate, they received some advice letters from 1st grade.

I am the K-1 instructional specialist and enrichment teacher here at ACE Prep and I really enjoy finding creative activities for our scholars to experience in enrichment that they wouldn't normally be able to do in class. I find joy watching our youngest scholars learn and grow every day! -Ms. Reeves

I enjoy being an Instructional Specialist and Enrichment teacher for ACE Prep second and third grade because I get to work with and build relationships with scholars. I love being creative and developing fun and engaging activities for our scholar enrichment time - Miss Bennett

I enjoy working at ACE Prep because of the relationships I have built with scholars and staff. My role allows me to interact, teach, and work with every scholar in the building. I especially love being able to spend time in classrooms strengthening those relationships and I feel lucky to call ACE Prep my home! - Ms. Smith

I love working with ACE Prep because the scholars are incredibly funny and constantly keep me laughing. I also enjoy seeing the "ah-ha" moments during both small groups and enrichment. Lastly, I love to see them grow both academically and personally throughout the different situations the scholars face.
